From the Editor...

Our Specialty, Obedience Trials and Rally Trials

Even if you are not exhibiting, be sure to mark March 4th and 5th on your calendar and turn out to help your fellow club members celebrate a major accomplishment

I am proud to be a part of the team whose dedication, hard work and persistence have brought these Back to Back Specialties, Obedience Trials and Rally Trials to fruition. We've all pulled together and worked a little harder through the loss of our original Show Secretary, Cay Carmody Ireland. Through club member's illnesses and family crisis, through the sudden relocation of our President Stephanie Trautman-Riley and the surgery of our Show Secretary Jana Thomas, we persevered and worked a little harder.

As a club, we should all be proud of this accomplishment.

Please turn out and celebrate with our Sheltie family. This show, with more entries than I've ever seen, is a major accomplishment for us. Show your support, have fun and enjoy our intelligent, athletic and beautiful Shelties.

Club Announcements

2006 Dues are Due

Please send your checks to our Treasurer, Colleen Kessler. If you have a balance from last year's dues, please include this in your payment. If dues are not paid, you will not be able to vote in our elections.

Elections

At our last meeting, Cindi Theiss was nominated from the floor by Paul Zaryczny, as Paul withdrew his nomination due to dedicating time to relocating in the Southwest. All other nominees stand as previously reported. Voting at our March Meeting (see meeting notice).

Everyone was very excited with entry.

Jana made an announcement that she may not be able to make the show due to surgery scheduled.

Paul showed us a copy of the front cover of the catalog. He also brought out a list of items that need to be brought to the show and who had volunteered to bring.

Karen will bring folders and Cindi will bring rubber bands for arm bands.

Karen volunteered to put numbers on the arm bands, Holly said she could probably do on the computer so she will take care of the arm bands.

Need dry erase markers. Cindi is bringing dry erase markers.

David & Meta will do catalogs, Beth will also be available.

4 H folks will not be doing the food.

Jana suggested food rings, chips and drink for $5.00. She also suggested that we sell tickets for the food. Will need different color tickets. Catalog people will also sell the food tickets.

We have red, yellow and blue, need 2 other colors. Paul will get.

Chris asked how much food to buy and drinks. We will find out how many exhibitors there are. Will need paper plates and napkins etc.

Need a trip to the warehouse.

Stewards & judges should eat lunch for free. Jana suggested that workers and show committee members get lunch free. Paul motioned that all club members who have worked on the show receive free lunch. Karen 2nd. Discussion-tickets will be given to those that get free lunch. Vote was taken, vote was approved.

Trophies, Ribbons & Medallions-

Ribbons have been ordered and will be sent to Colleen. Meredith mentioned that we have been very successful in obtaining donations for trophies and ads. We are in fabulous shape!

Obedience and Rally-Kathy has all the ring gates, stanchions, erase boards, Practice set up was held last week and was very successful.

We need a stop watch for rally. Should have 2 in case one quits. Kathy will ask judge if they are bringing the stop watches.

Colleen asked to remind committee of Paul and David to inspect the Treasurers books. Must be 2 weeks before next business.

New business

Hector would like to discuss Franks letter. He believes that people who have worked hard in the past should be recognized, also he agrees about the "family membership" issue.

David suggested possibly a trophy or award for outstanding membership of the past. Meredith suggested that someone contact Frank and have a conversation with him. Frank and MaryAnn have contributed a lot to the club. We cannot forget the past. We have to build bridges. Hector and Meredith will contact Frank and let us know add'l issues.

Meeting will be held at Lorna and Beth on 3/14/06 at 7:30.

Motion to adjourn made by Meta, Paul 2nd, at 10:05pm.

Stephanie Trautman-Riley brags ... "Drew" Champion Cameo The Right Stuff, MX, MXJ, HT< VCX competed in the largest class (16") at the AKC Eukanuba National Agility Championships and the Iams State Competition.

In the State competition, Florida finished 2nd with Drew running 2 perfect runs.

At the AKC National Agility Championships, Drew ran 3 perfect runs, finishing overall 17th out of 168 dogs, finishing #10 Shetland Sheepdog and #1 Champion Shetland Sheepdog! To say I'm proud of what we've accomplished is an understatement-it's a dream realized!

Why Attend The National?

Via Toonie Tais

Via CISSC Sheltie Showdown, Submitted by Lorna Staab

Are we guilty of over-emphasizing our National each year? No way!! The National is the most valuable learning experience on the breed that a fancier can treat himself to. The following benefits listed, although not intended to be all-inclusive, are some that come to mind to this writer as being important enough to warrant consideration of making an effort to attend our National.

1. If you are showing and doing your share of winning, say in a two to five state area, chances are it has become easy to believe that your own breeding program is as good as it needs to be. This complacency, so detrimental to growth and improvement, can receive a jolt of realism when you attend the National and see that a breeder from across the nation managed to achieve better top lines, as an example, from similar foundation stock.

2. Since most of the top-ranked dogs will be there (if the owners are smart!), you will have the opportunity to see in person and to study up close those animals whose ads have caught your eye. Hopefully, you will be able to meet their owners and visit about incorporating them into your breeding program, if that is your goal. Don't mislead the owners, be honest if you are simply only "shopping" or considering, and haven't made a decision yet. It is especially beneficial to arrange to see the dogs in their motel room. Although it shouldn't be construed as a final temperament test, interacting with a dog on a one-to-one basis in an area with which they have become somewhat comfortable is more reliable than jumping on that dog right outside of a show ring. It should enable one to learn more about its personality than merely seeing it in a show ring environment.

3. Although fanciers are often hesitant to share their breeding problems and setbacks through articles and journals, or newsletters, they are often willing to discuss them in person with other concerned fanciers.

4. The non-regular classes offered at specialties provide learning experiences for the observer. Stud dog and brood bitch classes give evidence of the varying degree of prepotency possessed by our leading brood stock, while veteran classes bring life to pedigrees and year book photos. They also leave the sentimental misty-eyed watching the stars of the past gait proudly once more as an admiring audience cheers.

5. If you go to the National as an exhibitor, be prepared to consider any sort of win as simply icing on the cake. Simply placing in a class is an honor at the National, and there are many who feel that even "making the cut" in a class is an honor! More so than going there to win, go to learn and to socialize.

Granted, showing your dogs at the National can be a very humbling experience. It is, however, a chance to see how your dogs rate with others from around the country. You could be in for a pleasant surprise, but of course you can also be in for a rude awakening! Going to the National gives a person new perspective. It's a chance to see where the breed is headed, and what areas need improvement. Another point: dogs that are regarded highly may prove to be disappointing to you, once we have seen them move, how they show, or some other detail that a photo does not reveal. Watching your Super Special perform in the ring has altered many a direction in a breeding program. If a picture is worth a thousand words, then BEING THERE in person must be worth a million!

Post Shoe Report

Shetland Sheepdog Breed Standard

General Appearance

Preamble-- The Shetland Sheepdog, like the Collie, traces to the Border Collie of Scotland, which, transported to the Shetland Islands and crossed with small, intelligent, longhaired breeds, was reduced to miniature proportions. Subsequently crosses were made from time to time with Collies. This breed now bears the same relationship in size and general appearance to the Rough Collie as the Shetland Pony does to some of the larger breeds of horses. Although the resemblance between the Shetland Sheepdog and the Rough Collie is marked, there are differences, which may be noted. The Shetland Sheepdog is a small, alert, rough-coated, longhaired working dog. He must be sound, agile and sturdy. The outline should be so symmetrical that no part appears out of proportion to the whole. Dogs should appear masculine; bitches feminine.

Size, Proportion, Substance

The Shetland Sheepdog should stand between 13 and 16 inches at the shoulder. Note: Height is determined by a line perpendicular to the ground from the top of the shoulder blades, the dog standing naturally, with forelegs parallel to line of measurement.

Disqualifications-- Heights below or above the desired size range are to be disqualified from the show ring. In overall appearance, the body should appear moderately long as measured from shoulder joint to ischium (rearmost extremity of the pelvic bone), but much of this length is actually due to the proper angulation and breadth of the shoulder and hindquarter, as the back itself should be comparatively short.

Head

The head should be refined and its shape, when viewed from top or side, should be a long, blunt wedge tapering slightly from ears to nose.

Expression-- Contours and chiseling of the head, the shape, set and use of ears, the placement, shape and color of the eyes combine to produce expression. Normally the expression should be alert, gentle, intelligent and questioning. Toward strangers the eyes should show watchfulness and reserve, but no fear.

Eyes medium size with dark, almond-shaped rims, set somewhat obliquely in skull. Color must be dark, with blue or merle eyes permissible in blue merles only. Faults-- Light, round, large or too small. Prominent haws. Ears small and flexible, placed high, carried three-fourths erect, with tips breaking forward. When in repose the ears fold lengthwise and are thrown back into the frill.

Faults-- Set too low. Hound, prick, bat, twisted ears. Leather too thick or too thin.

Skull and Muzzle Top of skull should be flat, showing no prominence at nuchal crest (the top of the occiput). Cheeks should be flat and should merge smoothly into a well-rounded muzzle. Skull and muzzle should be of equal length, balance point being inner corner of eye. In profile the top line of skull should parallel the top line of muzzle, but on a higher plane due to the presence of a slight but definite stop. Jaws clean and powerful. The deep, well-developed underjaw, rounded at chin, should extend to base of nostril. Nose must be black. Lips tight. Upper and lower lips must meet and fit smoothly together all the way around. Teeth level and evenly spaced. Scissors bite.

Faults-- Two-angled head. Too prominent stop, or no stop. Overfill below, between, or above eyes. Prominent nuchal crest. Domed skull. Prominent cheekbones. Snipy muzzle. Short, receding, or shallow underjaw, lacking breadth and depth. Overshot or undershot, missing or crooked teeth. Teeth visible when mouth is closed.

Neck, Topline, Body

Neck should be muscular, arched, and of sufficient length to carry the head proudly. Faults-- Too short and thick. Back should be level and strongly muscled. Chest should be deep, the brisket reaching to point of elbow. The ribs should be well sprung, but flattened at their lower half to allow free play of the foreleg and shoulder. Abdomen moderately tucked up. Faults-- Back too long, too short, swayed or roached. Barrel ribs. Slab-side. Chest narrow and/or too shallow. There should be a slight arch at the loins, and the croup should slope gradually to the rear. The hipbone (pelvis) should be set at a 30-degree angle to the spine. Faults-- Croup higher than withers. Croup too straight or too steep.

The tail should be sufficiently long so that when it is laid along the back edge of the hind legs the last vertebra will reach the hock joint. Carriage of tail at rest is straight down or in a slight upward curve. When the dog is alert the tail is normally lifted, but it should not be curved forward over the back.

Faults-- Too short. Twisted at end.

Forequarters

From the withers, the shoulder blades should slope at a 45-degree angle forward and downward to the shoulder joints. At the withers they are separated only by the vertebra, but they must slope outward sufficiently to accommodate the desired spring of rib. The upper arm should join the shoulder blade at as nearly as possible a right angle. Elbow joint should be equidistant from the ground and from the withers. Forelegs straight viewed from all angles, muscular and clean, and of strong bone. Pasterns very strong, sinewy and flexible. Dewclaws may be removed. Faults

Insufficient angulation between shoulder and upper arm. Upper arm too short. Lack of outward slope of shoulders. Loose shoulders. Turning in or out of elbows. Crooked legs. Light bone.

Feet should be oval and compact with the toes well arched and fitting tightly together. Pads deep and tough, nails hard and strong. Faults Feet turning in or out. Splay feet. Hare feet. Cat feet.

Hindquarters

The thigh should be broad and muscular. The thighbone should be set into the pelvis at a right angle corresponding to the angle of the shoulder blade and upper arm. Stifle bones join the thighbone and should be distinctly angled at the stifle joint. The overall length of the stifle should at least equal the length of the thighbone, and preferably should slightly exceed it. Hock joint should be clean-cut, angular, sinewy, with good bone and strong ligamentation. The hock (metatarsus) should be short and straight viewed from all angles. Dewclaws should be removed.

Faults-- Narrow thighs. Cow-hocks. Hocks turning out. Poorly defined hock joint.

Feet as in forequarters.

Coat

The coat should be double, the outer coat consisting of long, straight, harsh hair; the undercoat short, furry, and so dense as to give the entire coat its "standoff" quality. The hair on face, tips of ears and feet should be smooth. Mane and frill should be abundant, and particularly impressive in males. The forelegs well feathered, the hind legs heavily so, but smooth below the hock joint. Hair on tail profuse. Note: Excess-hair on ears, feet, and on hocks may be trimmed for the show ring. Faults-- Coat short or flat, in whole or in part; wavy, curly, soft or silky. Lack of undercoat. Smooth-coated specimens.

Color

Black, blue merle, and sable (ranging from golden through mahogany); marked with varying amounts of white and/or tan. Faults-- Rustiness in a black or a blue coat. Washed-out or degenerate colors, such as pale sable and faded blue. Self-color in the case of blue merle, that is, without any merling or mottling and generally appearing as a faded or dilute tri-color. Conspicuous white body spots. Specimens with more than 50 percent white shall be so severely penalized as to effectively eliminate them from competition. Disqualification Brindle.

Gait

The trotting gait of the Shetland Sheepdog should denote effortless speed and smoothness. There should be no jerkiness, nor stiff, stilted, up-and-down movement. The drive should be from the rear, true and straight, dependent upon correct angulation, musculation, and ligamentation of the entire hindquarter, thus allowing the dog to reach well under his body with his hind foot and propel himself forward. Reach of stride of the foreleg is dependent upon correct angulation, musculation and ligamentation of the forequarters, together with correct width of chest and construction of rib cage. The foot should be lifted only enough to clear the ground as the leg swings forward. Viewed from the front, both forelegs and hindlegs should move forward almost perpendicular to ground at the walk, slanting a little inward at a slow trot, until at a swift trot the feet are brought so far inward toward center line of body that the tracks left show two parallel lines of footprints actually touching a center line at their inner edges. There should be no crossing of the feet nor throwing of the weight from side to side. Faults-- Stiff, short steps, with a choppy, jerky movement. Mincing steps, with a hopping up and down, or a balancing of weight from side to side (often erroneously admired as a "dancing gait" but permissible in young puppies). Lifting of front feet in hackney-like action, resulting in loss of speed and energy. Pacing gait.

Temperament

The Shetland Sheepdog is intensely loyal, affectionate, and responsive to his owner. However, he may be reserved toward strangers but not to the point of showing fear or cringing in the ring. Faults-- Shyness, timidity, or nervousness. Stubbornness, snappiness, or ill temper.
